

Grades 3-4
and 5-6

About the author school visit

Engaging kids in the climate conversation

Carolyn Armstrong, a local author, educator, and imperfect environmentalist, uses her middle grade, fact-based fiction to create conversations around the complexities of climate change and inspire kids to become eco-warriors.

In her presentation,

- Carolyn will share her travel adventures for research, fascinating facts about polar habitats, and why global warming in the Arctic affects the rest of the planet.
- Together, students, teachers, and author will brainstorm ways they can be more sustainable, even pledging to take these new practices out of school and spread into their communities.

Local school visits:

Available for grades 3-4 and 5-6, small or large group, approx 45 min, including Q&A.

Cost: $250 for 1 session OR will exchange book sales for school visit (proof of purchase class set 25+ copies)

Available for order at any indie bookstore, B&N, Amazon

ISBN: 979-8-218-22003-7

Non local visits, contact me and we'll discuss terms.

contact: ckabooksinfo@gmail.com

